

Foundations in Business Certificate

Our Foundations in Business Certificate was created to spark professional growth and provide leadership development that will strengthen any organization. With courses in accounting, economics, finance, marketing, and organizational behavior, participants will receive a well-rounded, practical education regardless of their prior business experience. Don't need the entire certificate? Not a problem, as the courses can be taken individually as well.

Designed to benefit anyone who works in a business setting, both newcomers and seasoned veterans will find value in this program. Skills learned can be directly applied to an individual's role within the organization and incorporated into the decision-making process to create true developmental impact. Between family life, daily commutes, and full-time jobs, executive education needs to fit into the lives of busy working professionals. That is why the Foundations in Business Certificate are facilitated online and without deadlines. Take control of your career, at your pace.

The Foundation in Business Certificate is being offered to all NAWBO members at a special 15% discount off of the $1,995 cost by using the promo code Nawbo. This is a savings of $300 and brings the total cost of the certificate down to $1,695.00. Those who complete the program will received the Foundations of Business Certificate from the Lacy School of Business at Butler University. However, if you don't need the entire certificate and just want to take a course or two from the certificate that is available as well. Your 15% discount will still be applied to the cost of the individual course! Please click on the follow link and use the following promo code to begin you registration:
